Valuable. Please note, this will be the description available to conference delegates should your proposal be accepted (500 words):

7. True inclusivity and equity are reflected in how work is delivered, not just in what is said. Proposals should demonstrate how these principles are naturally embedded in the presenter's work, creating an inclusive and welcoming environment for all attendees. We would like to hear how your proposal contributes to increasing and/or addressing access, equity, inclusion and belonging in our field:

8. As proposals are prepared, applicants are invited to consider how their presentation will not only align with CEWIL Canada's core values of community, quality, integrity, learning, innovation, and respect but also demonstrate these values through the design of the session. Please consider how your proposal demonstrates a commitment to one or more of the following (please check all that apply):

- COMMUNITY: We are an inclusive, engaged, collaborative and passionate group that shares a collective interest and enthusiasm for Work-Integrated-Learning.
- QUALITY: We stand for high standards of rigour and evidence-based practices to ensure a high degree of excellence. CEWIL's beacon of expertise and leading practices is the hallmark of our organization.
- INTEGRITY: CEWIL's actions will align with our words. We will act ethically with attention to our values and hold the notions of honesty, pride, trust and helpfulness as our integrity standards.
- LEARNING: At CEWIL, curiosity and reflection are a way of life. We strive to acquire new knowledge, behaviours, and skills to continuously improve to meet the needs and education of our members.
- INNOVATION: CEWIL will respond to practical challenges through creative thinking and invention that will transform and sustain WIL as the world of work evolves.
- RESPECT: We know that part of building a thriving WIL ecosystem means tapping into our differences; of who we are, where we come from, what we've experienced and how we think. We are committed to treating others as they wish to be treated and embed the principles of equity, diversity, and inclusion in all that we do.

9. Please briefly elaborate on your selection(s) above:
